APPLICATION PROCESS AND CRITERIA
The Admissions Committee will make admission decisions based on overall academic performance, academic performance in prerequisite classes, and the quality of the application statement:

- Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.25 and above, AND completion of all prerequisite coursework by the end of the semester the application is submitted, will likely be admitted. The complete application form, a response to Application Statement One, and an official transcript must be submitted. Application Statement Two is optional for this group.
- Students with a cumulative GPA from 2.5 to 2.9 overall, OR those who will not have all prerequisite coursework completed by the end of the semester the application is submitted, are required to submit all of the above and a response to Application Statement Two (see next page for guidelines) with their application materials. Based on the quality of the applicant pool, students in this range may not be competitive for admission.
- Cross-campus applicants must also submit a cross-campus transfer application in addition to this application. It can be found at http://www.admissions.umich.edu
- In the event that there are more qualified students in the 3.0+ range than spaces available, priority will be given to current Kinesiology students over cross-campus applicants.
APPLICATION STATEMENT ONE
What types of work experiences, leadership activities, or volunteer experiences have led you to choose Sport Management and how will you be successful in this major? How will this major contribute to your career goals?

APPLICATION STATEMENT TWO
Why are you a competitive applicant for this program? How will you add value to the classroom environment? Are there any parts of your application you would like to explain (e.g., What prevented you from taking a prerequisite course? Why did you earn a low grade in a particular course?)

ADMISSION DECISIONS
The Admissions Committee will review applications and communicate decisions to applicants on or near these dates:

For Winter term start applicants: November 15
For Fall term start applicants: March 15

If you are denied admission to Level 2 due to missing prerequisite course(s) or a low GPA, you may reapply the following semester. Before doing so, you must meet with an academic advisor to discuss the effect of reapplying on your overall degree progress. In the event you are denied Level 2 admission a second time, you may not reapply.
